

Far South Coast Artists Showcased at The Right Royal Cocktail Party this Sunday Evening

Under a full moon with a cocktail in one hand and a delicious canapé from Red Café or perhaps a Tathra Oyster in the other, you will have the unique opportunity to win artwork created by the current Living Artist recipient, Tanja Riese, and the 2008 recipient, Poppy Benton, this Sunday 7 June at the Tathra Surf Club.

Many other recognised local artists are represented in the cocktail party silent auction which provides guests with an exclusive chance to purchase generously donated art from the Far South Coast. Artists include Craig Cameron and Matt Jones who were the runners up for current Living Artist Scholarship as well as Sue Chancellor, Jen Mallinson, David Mills, Sam Bailey, Deb Johansen, Stephen Gill.

Raffle items and prizes have also been donated by the hugely supportive local business community. The Far South Coast Living Artist Committee Members wish to thank the event's sponsors who are entwinedesigns (Bega), The Seahorse Inn (Boydton), Tathra Beachhouse Apartments (Tathra), Essential Object (Tathra), Air Sapphire (Merimbula), Coastlife Adventures (Kalaru), Cobala Workshop Gallery (Cobargo), Shakti-ma Emporium (Bega), Poppen Designs (Malua Bay), Ole Felting, Nancy Brunton Pottery (Bega), Merimbula Fresh Seafood's (Merimbula), Aquablue Resortware (Merimbula), Tackleworld (Merimbula), Excell Printing (Pambula), Jen Mallinson Design and Bob the Basket Man (Bega).

The cocktail party begins at 6pm. For a $50 ticket, guests will enjoy 2 cocktails, a range of canapés as well as entertainment by local musicians as well as tango dancing demonstrations. Prizes will be given including Jewellery by Cardog Designs to the tongue in cheek Prince and Princess of the evening chosen by Prue Acton.

The tickets are $50 each and can be ordered by calling Essential Object in Tathra on 02 6494 1747 for collection at the door or purchased at Ginger and Luvvy Boutique in Merimbula, Shakti-ma Emporium or Bega Health Food in Bega, Ruby Vivant Boutique in Bermagui and Gallery Bodalla in Bodalla.
